

Housekeeping

AMS has men's and women's bathrooms in the basement. There are also vending machines.

The closest decent coffee is at the University Library snack bar. You can just make it on a 15 minute break if you move fast.

My office is 209 AMS; I'll be around a lot this quarter due to admin stuff. My regular office hours are 3-5 Monday and by appointment. If my door is open, you can stop in and talk. I'm often unavailable for meetings from noon-2.30, but you can often find me at the SPAC pool at that time.

The RTF office is also on the second floor, as is Performance Studies. My mailbox is in 215 AMS.

Let's be cooperative rather than competitive regarding library materials. I've put a limited amount of stuff on reserve. Let's feel free to ask among ourselves if we're looking for something someone else may have checked out. If there is some recalcitrant book borrower who doesn't return something, let me know and I'll add it to the reserve list.

I'd like to set up a group screening of the two hour video on Bourdieu, "Sociology as a Martial Art" for the week of Jan 17. If you can't fit into the time we arrange, see it on your own.

Note taking: this will be divided up in one hour assignments at each class. Notetakers are expected to present their summaries by Thursday afternoon at 5 pm on CMS. The goal here is to make a reasonable summary of the discussion, presentations, etc. Concise accuracy should be the goal.
